An Unexpected Argument on Terrorism

~ Patriot's Ink Staff Writer
Feb 19th 2015

Yesterday the President spoke on national television explaining why he did not wish to use Islam and Terror in the same sentence. His argument was simple and quite understandable. Specifically, it was that no one who could do the things the terrorists did could possibly do so on religious grounds. The claim to Islam was false.

In his summary, he stated, "No religion is responsible for terrorism. People are responsible for violence and terrorism."

What came to my mind was that the President finally understood the saying that guns don't kill people. People kill people.

Perhaps he has a point.
